

We all know that we love freelancing because of flexible hours, freedom, unlimited growth, No boss etc.

Most of the new freelancers are struggling to manage a job from the freelancing platform. I have done a research on it and finally find out some key reasons to fail in freelancing.

Let's see and learn what type of mistake do often as a freelancer.

1. Know your worth

There are too many free employees out there who do not know or recognize their own value. I do not know why this is so, but it is a mistake that the world's freelancers do!

It is tempting to go in freelancing and offer reduced rates, cheaper rates and great savings for potential customers. After all, customers want to save money, do not?

Ok. Then see my opinion regarding that!

Very simple! Suppose you are making a marketing plan for a company in 3000$ and another freelancer offer it in 500$!

Now if you're making a marketing plan give them return of 50,000$ per year and other plan give them only 2000$

Now just tell me as a owner of that company which one you would like to get! Yes! You will love to get pricy one.

Every customer wants more quality rather than cheap service!

2. Budget and planning for freelancing

The successful freelance career requires that you are able to see months while at the same time invest in creative projects career you have always dreamed of starting. While it is important to take risks, it is also important that you be displayed within 30 days, 6 months and a year from now, you can ensure that you have sufficient resources to provide their support here and now And his creative career in the long term favorable location in. Skill the lesson is a great way to make passive income and ensure a stable base to make it to month.

3.Lack of concentration on your business idea

While you can start selling their goods arts online, show their products at the next major conference in the city, and help your friend to make party favors, lack of concentration can suppress your ability to promote your idea after the fall. Freelancing requires discipline and take assignments in projects or ideas that you can succeed in an intuition. Although all Paris you will do as expected, it is important to find the development of a project. You can repeat at any time and make changes required, but to leave too much once without any initial success may try to build.

4.You cannot invest in yourself

Every project and the idea that you throw is an opportunity for personal and professional development, but you cannot always go alone. If this is the first time for you to work for you or you build your own website, you expect to solve it yourself. Finding your network resources and online classes you can learn and grow can help, which in turn will help your business succeed in the long run.

5. Not spread the skill

Working for yourself can be a challenge: you have responsibility team, comments have not built, or celebrations help to continue. In fact, one can be exposed to more people who will not question their business idea or a separate project that could lead a bitter setback in his creative process. The actual successful free career choice test is the ability to resist any doubt that you feel internally or feedback you from your network. A good way to test your trust in your business idea is to teach a class - will force you to express what you feel about self-reliance in their approach. This is your career and your passion and Do not let everything stand!

6.Do not take the risks

The introduction of your own company with regard to or a freelance career to start, there is no guarantee. The best way to know which projects have the greatest potential or business ideas is the fastest is to take a ton of risk in advance. This can be unpleasant, especially if your life is at stake, but doing what feels easy, or what just keep its stagnant growth has been worked. Appropriate risks and prepare your fast learning business ideas to iterate you collect.

7. Resistance to change

Have you been dabbling for some time its own business, and we hope that the great time when it's really creative idea takes off. But sometimes the same thing, again and again, does not take you to the next level. Perhaps mentors or individuals in your network have suggested way to change your business model or make suggestions for new projects that take and shrugged. Do not change anything new or try - the ability to innovate and change is essential to success.

8. Not identify your real value

Time value

You do not doubt, but you are not sure what value! Ask your current and previous customers. Often, they can explain why better than you to work with you. Would you like a way to always destroy your competitors?

Note: Never ask for feedback only satisfied clients

One way that every time almost no one does? Serving exceptional customers above. Think about it, we live in a world without customer service. People are absolutely hungry for the attention of their suppliers. Therefore, if you want to stand out and create value - decide what the customer service is defined for their customers, and do it!

9. Not manage your time well

Based on his best “working hours” include a schedule that works for you and sticks to it. Whether you are more productive at night or early morning, a routine for your work day setting is one way to measure productivity and control communication with customers. For me, my “work / creation time” is the morning. After lunch, I work on tasks that my creative brains do not need. This varies easily throughout the year, and adjusts accordingly.

10.No backups of your data

The horror of the lost data. Ugh! Files lose the valuable work is like taking care of Amityville, Carrie and the Exorcist at the same time.

When you work for yourself, backing up your data is your responsibility and duty to you - and your customers. Plain and simple. Make it a priority. You can save your data easily on drop box, Google drive etc.

11. Poor communication

As a freelancer, we are working for the different foreign client in verity of projects. Our full work depends on computation. So have to be very active while our client wants. Never keep client waiting on the line. Most importantly keep updating your work report every day.

That is all for Now and also Please share your ideas and If you face any more problem in freelancing. Thanks
